Election Watch

Election Watch process aims to provide authentic, unbiased information on candidates' background in time to enable voters to make an informed choice. ADR has been conducting Election Watches for General and State Assembly elections since the landmark judgment of Supreme Court in 2003, which made it mandatory for contesting candidates to file affidavits with background information with the Election Commission of India.

To undertake Election Watch, information provided by candidates in their affidavits to the Election Commission of India is collected and analyzed. The dissemination of analyzed data takes place through multiple channels including national and vernacular media, online campaigns, eminent individuals and National Election Watch (a network of 1200 partner organizations based in all states of India).

Election Watches are held in close collaboration with the Election Watch partners in every state. These partner organizations are instrumental in organizing information dissemination and advocacy activities in their states.

During the year 2012-13, Election Watches were conducted for the following elections held across the country:

- State assembly elections for 9 states, which included, Uttar Pradesh, Punjab, Uttarakhand, Manipur, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Meghalaya, Tripura and Nagaland
- Rajya Sabha (Upper House) elections
- Bye elections and
- Select Panchayat and Municipal body elections

Election Watch reports provide reliable information on criminal records, financial assets and education details of candidates and elected representatives in a very short span of time.

Political Party Watch

Political party watch program works towards making political parties accountable and transparent in their functioning. There is very little information about political parties available in the public domain and one of the objectives of the program is to make voters aware of this and build pressure on the parties to become more transparent and accountable. Under the program, research is carried out on following aspects of functioning of political parties:

- Candidate selection and inner party democracy in political parties
- Expenses incurred by the political parties during elections and otherwise
- Income Tax Returns of Political Parties
- Donations received by political parties
- The Political Parties Draft Bill, 2011 and other related documents

Following analyses on political parties were published during the reporting period:

- Analysis of Income Tax returns and assessment orders of all national parties and regional parties of states that went to elections during year 2012-13
- Analysis of contribution (donation) details of all national and select regional parties
- Analysis of donations received by major political parties of India
- Analysis on substantial funding received by political parties and why they should be declared 'public authority' under the RTI Act

Research

Research is an integral part of the work done by ADR. The reports prepared after extensive research are widely shared for both information dissemination and advocacy activities. All our reports are available online. A representative list of the research reports prepared in the year 2012-13 is as follows:

- Analysis of performance of the Assemblies of Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Punjab, Goa, Manipur, Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat, Tripura, Meghalaya and Nagaland, prepared before state assembly elections. Election expenses of elected representatives of the above states were also analyzed after the elections.

Comprehensive and relevant research is conducted on various facets of functioning of elected representatives and political parties in the country.

- Analysis of the number of politicians charged with crimes against women was released in December 2012. This report was released in the wake of increasing crimes in Delhi and put the focus on the political parties to ensure that the persons charged with such crimes are not given tickets to contest elections. The Verma Committee Report, tabled after the Delhi gang rape incident in December 2012, referenced to this report and recommended amending the Representation of People Act, 1951 to deal with growing criminalization of Indian politics.
- An analysis on how many of our current MLAs/MPs are facing probe under Prevention of Corruption Act was done after the Special CBI court sentenced former Chief Minister of Haryana and his son to ten years of rigorous imprisonment based on corruption charges.
- An analysis of criminal, financial, educational and other background details of candidates and winners of the Assembly elections of Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat, Tripura, Nagaland, Meghalaya and Karnataka was released before elections.
- An analysis of asset increase of re-contesting candidates and MLAs in the Assembly elections of states of Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat, Tripura, Nagaland, Meghalaya and Karnataka was released before elections.
- An analysis of election expenses of newly elected MLAs of the states of Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat, Tripura, Nagaland, Meghalaya and Karnataka was released after elections.
- Analysis of IT returns and donation details of major parties in the states Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat, Tripura, Nagaland, Meghalaya and Karnataka was released as part of the political party watch program.
- Analysis of the background details of all MPs and MLAs voting for the Presidential elections in India was released before presidential elections.
- An analysis for Members of Parliament with pending criminal cases and who have got guns from the government .

Achievements: 2012-13

Impact of Our Work

April 2013: The Second Appeal requesting that Income Tax returns of the MPs/ MLAs should be made public for the larger public interest owing to the mounting corruption and incredible increase of their assets is under consideration. So far, four hearings have been convened and the matter will now go for the larger bench for hearing.

March 2013: The Election Commission of India asked the Ministry of Home Affairs to institute a mechanism for verification of declarations made by elected representatives in their affidavits.

March 2013: The Election Commission of India asked the Ministry of Law and Justice to amend the Representation of People Act to provide stricter deterrent against filing false affidavits.

January 2013: ADR along with Dr. E.A.S. Sharma had filed a Public Interest Litigation in the Delhi High Court in January 2013 seeking investigation by a special team or by the Central Bureau of Investigation into alleged receipt of monetary donations by major political parties in violation of the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act and the Representation of People Act. The High Court sought responses from the Home Ministry and the Election Commission in this matter. The ECI has filed its response; the response from the Home Ministry is still awaited.

December 2012: Our deliberations with the Speaker of the Lok Sabha have led the Ethics Committee of the Lok Sabha recommending the Lower House to also instate a Register of Members' Interest to disclose all business/pecuniary interests (including remunerative directorship, shareholding of controlling nature, regular remunerative activity, paid consultancy and professional engagement) of Lok Sabha MPs. The Register of Members' Interest for the Rajya Sabha already exists, information of which was made public in 2011 based on an RTI application filed by ADR.

November 2012: On the Political Party Watch front, the complaint to declare political parties as Public Authorities under the RTI Act was heard by the CIC on November 1, 2012 and the verdict has been reserved. The hearing and the release of several of our reports on the IT returns and donations of political parties have made the issue of lack of transparency and accountability of functioning of political parties part of the national debate.

October 2012: Election Commission of India asked the Ministry of Home Affairs to probe violations of the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act and the Representation of People Act by major political parties which reportedly received foreign contributions.

Awards and Recognition

July 2012: ADR won the mBillionth Award South Asia for the category of Mobile Innovations for Good Governance featuring our PULL SMS programme which allows every mobile user in the country to get information (criminal, financial and educational details) about his/her MP and MLA by typing a simple SMS on his/her phone.

ABOUT ADR

The History

A group of Professors from Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad set up Association for Democratic Reforms in August 1999. They filed a Public Interest Litigation in Delhi High Court in 1999 asking for disclosure of criminal, financial and educational background of candidates contesting elections. Based on this, the Supreme Court in 2002 and subsequently in 2003 made background disclosure mandatory for candidates in the form of affidavits disclosing criminal, financial and educational background to be submitted with the Election Commission of India.

ADR has been conducting Election Watches since 2002. The first election watch was conducted by ADR in 2002 for Gujarat Assembly Elections whereby detailed analysis of the backgrounds of candidates contesting elections was provided to help the electorate make an informed choice during polls. Since then ADR has conducted Election Watches for almost all state and parliament elections in collaboration with the National Election Watch. There is now an Election Watch chapter present in each state in the country working as National Election Watch. It conducts multiple projects aimed at increasing transparency and accountability in the political and electoral system of the country.

Our Achievements till date

January 2013: Times of India Social Impact Award in Advocacy and Empowerment category.

December 2012: ADR/NEW released an analysis of the number of politicians charged with crimes against women. ADR/NEW's recommendations and data is also widely quoted by the Justice Verma Committee in its report.

October 2012: The Election Commission asks the Ministry of Home Affairs to probe violations of the Foreign Contributions Regulation Act (FCRA) and the Representation of Peoples' Act (RPA) by major political parties which reportedly received foreign contributions.

August 2012: ADR won the mBillionth Award South Asia for the category of ‘Mobile Innovations for Good Governance’ featuring its PULL SMS programme which allows every mobile user in the country to get information (criminal, financial and educational details) about his/her MP and MLA by typing a simple SMS on his/her phone.

December 2011: ADR won the NASSCOM award for ICT led Innovation by Multi-stakeholder Partnership for its Election Watch Software with Webrosoft.

June 2011: After a two year long RTI battle, crucial information on the ‘Registers of Members’ Interest’ was finally mandated by the Central Information Commission (CIC) to be available in the public domain in June 2011.

January 2011: Details of the movable and immovable assets of 30 Bihar ministers, including that of CM Nitish Kumar, were uploaded on the government website in January, 2011

February 2010: Prime Minister Manmohan Singh asked his Cabinet colleagues to disclose details of their assets and liabilities and refrain from dealing with the government on immovable property.

January 2010: Both the Congress Chief Ms. Sonia Gandhi and leader of opposition in Lok Sabha Ms. Sushma Swaraj of BJP made public statements calling for a consensus on barring candidates with criminal backgrounds from contesting elections.

2009: The number of total serious IPC sections against MPs decrease from 296 in Lok Sabha 2004 to 274 in Lok Sabha 2009.

2009: A large number of candidates with serious pending cases that contested Lok Sabha 2009 elections like Pappu Yadav, Atiq Ahmed, Mukhtar Ansari, Akhilesh Singh, etc. lost.

2008: Overall, the percentage of candidates with pending criminal cases came down from 20% to 14% in the assembly elections held in the country in 2008 for the states of Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh, NCT of Delhi and Mizoram.

2008: In the Karnataka Assembly Elections, 2008, there was a reduction in the number of candidates with serious offenses put up by parties. It came down to 93 in 2008 from 217 in the 2004.

April 2008, ADR obtained a landmark ruling from the Central Information Commission (CIC) saying that Income Tax Returns of Political Parties would now be available in the public domain along with the assessment orders.

2005: Bihar Election Watch in October-November 2005 resulted in intense pressure on the Chief Minister Designate due to the extensive media coverage of candidate background. As a result, for the first time, Bihar has a Council of Ministers without any known criminal record.

September 2003: A Bill on Electoral Expenses was passed in September 2003. The EC took it one-step forward and asked candidates to file a statement of expenses every three days during the campaign.

May 2002 and March 2003: ADR won two milestone judgments on disclosure of candidate's criminal and financial records from the Supreme Court. Since then, 1200 NGOs from all over the country are supporting ADR and ADR in partnership with its partners has organized Citizen Election Watch for all major elections.

2002: The Election Commission completed a massive exercise based on the Gujarat Election Watch report to verify information filed by candidates in the nomination papers and affidavits, and started proceedings against candidates with false declarations.

Companies donate big to Congress, BJP

Contributions more than doubled between 2004 and 2009 polls; experts say published figures just tip of the iceberg

By Anuja A Liz Mathew

Contributions, including money from top companies, to the country's two largest political parties, the Congress and the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), more than doubled between the 2004 and 2009 general elections.

This revelation affirms a trend of companies, most of which are listed, opting for a transparent route to make their contributions to political parties. This is partly prompted by companies being able to get a 100% tax write-off on donations through trusts; two of the largest donors to both parties are trusts.

This is based on the income-tax returns filed by the political parties and accessed under the Right to Information Act by the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR), a New Delhi-based non-governmental organization that works to improve electoral processes.

However, experts said that what has been published is just the "tip of the iceberg" and working of the General Electoral Trust, which is managed by a different set of people, who could not be immediately reached for comment.

Aisank confirmed that it had donated money just the amount
