

Press Note: Karnataka Election Watch (KEW)

For the coming Assembly Elections, KEW is planning a series of activities for cleaner elections which we hope will lead to better governance. KEW is a network of non political, non partisan citizens and citizen organization. Nearly all the Districts of Karnataka are represented in this. There are also several eminent persons who are guiding and supporting this work.

The main activities include:

1. A campaign on “My vote is not for sale” to counter excessive spending in elections and bribing of voters through money, liquor, gifts. This campaign includes street plays in different districts, distribution of pamphlets, sms campaign, video screenings of well known cine celebrities giving the same message, and help from the media to reach a very large number of voters

2. KEW also urges voters to register and go out and vote. But they should make an informed choice and get relevant information of their candidates before voting KEW will also disseminate candidate information to voters giving details of their assets, growth in assets, criminal records if any, attendance in Assembly, questions asked and so on.

We will release information on MLAs, Karnataka budget, contribution report of political parties, their Income Tax returns, and expenses of political parties during elections in two more press conferences in the coming weeks.

In this press Release, we give below details of the current Ministers in Karnataka, how their assets have grown over the last few years, how it compares with other MLAs, how different political parties compare, and also how Karnataka MLAs compare with those from other Southern States.
